we publish the letter of the London correspondent of the New York News in snother column, stating positively that a treaty between Napoleon and the Confederate States was signed on the 5th of March. The tone of the Eaglish press and speechts in Parliament give no inking of any war in contemplation. Now does the present year was so near, I would make one report, so far as accompany-ing tables are concerned, antiles for this year. We publish the letter of the London templation. Nor does the news from any other source confirm this statement. But it must be admitted that words are used to conceal ideas, as well as to express them, and we don't see any motive this writer should have don's see any motive this writer should have to make an atterly unfounded statement of such importance. Besides, he has heretofore shown that he has means of information about affairs that concern the rebei States that others have not. Indeed, in the absence of any confirmatory news, the story is not improbable. We could, of conrse, look for no informa tion from Richmond. The papers there are Real Estate-From sale of old buildkeeping unusually dark. One of them, however, has a long article showing that the Congression of the work of the Market of the M federacy is a valuable ally to the United States or France; that they have autagonistic inerests which will have to be settled by a conflict. The Confederacy feels no attachment to either party; but is in market, and will take sides with the one that pays the highest price.

The nations of Europe feel a protound indif
Market-houses—Receipts from stallference as to the interests of either side in our quarrel; but Napoleon has designs of his own and interests of his own; so has England; and hence a bargain may be made.

The entire silence of the President, both in his message and lnaugnral, on foreign relations, leads us only to guess that he thought the less said would be soonest remedled. It is mortifying enough that the Great Republic should need hope or fear anything from Burope. It was not so once. With what lofty scorn would the ancestors of these men at Richmend have regarded a proposition from any part of this country to bargain away their inheritance in the Great Republic for the aid inheritance in the Great Republ Europe. It was not so once. With what lofty of England or France, or all Europe conbined.
Time will show if there be anything in this

The foreign correspondent of the New York News, who gave the first news of the For tax bills collected by building of the rebel ram O.inde, in his last letter to that journal informs us that there is a strong and decided movement on the part of the French and Eaglish governments to interse for tax bills collected by Wm. Kaye.

He goes so far as to name the day on which the treaty between the rebel government and the Emperor of the French was signed in the Emperor of the French was signed, in Hospital—From pay patients which s recognition of the Sonthern independbills for nursing. which a recognition of the Sonthern independence was made. It is further stated that army officers in England are confident that a war between that country and our own is imminent, and will immediately succeed the capture of blues of blue horse. neut, and will immediately succeed the capthre of Richmond. Bearing upon this point s a recent statement in the British Parliament, that, in the event of a war with this country, Canada weuld be sacrificed, and a determined ssault made upon some other point in our erritory.

Without any disposition to give too much credit to these frequent rumors, which have so often proved false, we do not think that Fine the rnmors should be wholly disregarded. It | Slave Fines-Coilected in City cannot be doubted that France, if not England, has serious reason to apprehend an aggression from this country, if we ever succeed getting the military strength of the rebeiin getting the military strength of the rebci-iion. We have too plainly indicated a hostile spirit toward them for it not to be seen. Our

The rebellion is, then, fighting the battles of France without expense to French figures of Gas Tax, paid to the Treas-France without expense to French finances or French lives. When it appears, however, that they are no longer able to do this, it will be to the interest of France, without waiting for the final crushing of the rebellion, to come promptly to the aid of the rebels. They will have the advantage of coming. upon us exhousted in war, without leaving us time to which they will have to aid them. They will require from us the recognition of Southern ladependence, the recognition of Mexican independence, and a distinct guarantee of the debt for powder and less... repudiation of the Monroe doctrine.

We see some of our exchanges are discussing the question whether it was or was not an indignity to us to send as embassador iord. It is an important thing. England sends us her second-rate actors, rope dancerr, tumblers, file-flap termers and actors, rope dancerr, tumblers, flip-flap turners, and shoddy generally. We want the real thing. We want a live lord done up in a glass case, with his coat-Merchant Tailors' Goods of arms done on his rear, and his crosses and honors on his breast, for shoddy to admire. AUDITOR'S OFFICE, LOUISVILLE, KY., Feb. 10, 1805. To the Honorable the General Council:

GENTLEMEN: In accordance with a resolution which passed the Common Council February 9, 1865, I hand you herewith a statement of the celps of Louisville, for the year ending March 9, 1864. This statement is the major and more important portion of what; should have been long since presented—my annair report Under favorable circumstances that report would not have been delayed beyond the list of June last, but I trust that, under the circumstances, if my delay is not justifiable, it is to some extent excasable.

With the amount of business now transacted in the Auditor's and Treasurer's offices, it is next to an impossibility to begin work at clesing up the books till about the 1st of April. Then the entrent work of the new year is in full progress and must be kept up. I could have been ready by the first of June isst, but that the condition of my health then, as well as throughout the entire summer, made it too great a tark. Then the alterations in the City

The papers have announced the bold obbery at Mr. A. Bland's banking house, but we hear his losses are not so great as at first reported. Notwithstanding the less, Mr. Bland has not asked any indulgence; on the contrary, has paid everything as promptly as be ore, and has even urged persons whose funds were in his hands, who expressed any doubt, to receive back their money, even though it was not due for months to come The fact is, that while the th'eves got severs years of Mr. Bland's hard carnings, they left him a handsome mergin of his own funds over and above all deposits in his hands. While the loss is a serious one, he is by no means disturbed in the transaction of his dally bus'ness. Commercing in a very small way some years ogo, he had, by close attention to bneiness, pindence and judgment, amassed con siderable money. His standing is by no means impaired, but greatly enhanced by this recent Wm. Whiting (free) and Jos. Armstrong, a loss. It has proved that his depositors have Died, on the 5th day of February, 1865, of typhoid pneumonia, at the residence of his uncle, Jno. H. Pake, in the city of Louisville, Ky., Wm. H. Marray, in the 24th year of his age.

Mr. Mauray was the only son of Walker W. and Mery Mauray, of Wafren county, both of whom were well known and highly respected. The writer has been not only well but intimately equalinted with the deceased from his early boyhood, and from personal knowledge can bear testimony to bis gleat worth.

Left when quite a boy, by the death of his father, to the sole care of bis mother, it would most naturally be expected that, having every wish gratifled, he, like most youths, would be injuriously affected by such indusence. But he acquired none of those hehits of dissipation and recklessness too often contracted by those born in affuence, and reared hy the hand of doing affection. Very early in life he gave this centre to Him who born had the contracted by those born in affuence, and reared hy the hand of doing affection. Very early in life he gave this centre is the contracted by those to many the sent to Him who had been an expected as a sent to the wind of the communion he lived a consistent and worthy member till his death, Self sacrificiog and generous aimost to a famil, the rich enjoyed his liberality, the poor shared his bounty.

His fieldity to bis mother during her long illness of almost three years, finally terminating in her death, has often heen the subject of remark. Though well provided in every respect, neither the allurements of pleasure nor the calls of business couls induce him to leave at night bis tender charge. One could hut think of Virgil's pictore of Æneas carrying his aged parent on his shoulders from burning Troy.

At the close of last year he wound np his business in Warren county, hy selling his farm and other property, retaining his servants, some forty in number, who could not be induced to leave him. At the commencement of the present year, he removed to Louisville, after which his history is soon written. A OBITUARY.

March 6, 1865. To the Citizens of Louisville. The committee appointed by the General Conneil to attend to the dishuracment of the bounty fund beg leave to call the attention of the cilizens to the following facts: The tund, $200,000, appropriated by the cily, Eighth ward, Joel Lamborn and Thos. Anne; The amount to this date contrion on the Solution and John G. Ensubscribers to the bounty fund is $39,200, which low: Tenth ward, J. M. Huston and J. G. Anwill only pay bounties to 140 men. Thus, the two funds combined will pay for hut 797 men. There have been already culisted to the credit of the city 442 men, and there are now 450 men more who offer to enlist. When they shall be alisted, it will make the number credited to Louisville 892 men, which is 95 men more tesn the wo funds (as at present) combined will pay. Besides, even if this number of 892 men should be paid, there would still be a deficiency of 365 men; and unless this defi ciency is made up the draft will be ordered. In addition to the 450 men, now shout to be enlisted, others can be procured; they are daily offering and there will be no difficulty in procuring enough and more than cuough men to fill the city's quota and avoid the draft.

Let the citizens, therefore, come forward at ouce and subscribe to the fund, so that we may not have to turn away the volunteers for want of funds to pay the hounty. This we must do, unless the citizens prouptly come forward to-morrow; for, as before observed, we have already more men engaged than the fund will now pay. Let every citizen take an interest in the matter, and not be attlefied alone with subscribing, but let him nrge others to come forward and subscribe, and not cease his work till enough money is raised to pay off the city's quota.
